Dear Mrs. West:

I acknowledge receipt of your communication and in reply beg to advise that we do not wish to buy your plant, equipment and property under the option granted us by our contract with you. This, therefore, will constitute a relinquishment of such rights of purchase.

It is imperative that you adhere to the terms of the contract with reference to the sale of the property as set forth in my former communication to you, and to further assure us that there will be no further competitive interest in the newspaper field as agreed by the terms of the contract.

Very truly yours,
